Imagine a TV built just for you. A white and beautiful creation, built in the Corian-like material Hi-Macs®, just like an exclusive kitchen or boat interior. A device of highest quality, where picture, sound and new technology merge in a novel and totally unique combination. Scandinavia is developed and built in Sweden in order to meet modern demands on design, quality and innovation. With the push of a button you can reach your entire world, through YouTube, Facebook and Twitter as well as through numerous games and applications. Control everything with a single remote - not a single cable is needed. Meet Scandinavia - your Window to the World.
